HOCHBERG, District Judge:

This matter having come before the Court upon pro se Plaintiff's letter dated August 17, 2012, requesting a hearing in lieu of a brief; and this Court requiring a brief in opposition to any motion;¹ and it appearing that Plaintiff's opposition brief was due August 21, 2012;

IT IS on this 22nd day of August, 2012,

ORDERED that Plaintiff's opposition is due September 4, 2012, and the new return date for the motion is September 17, 2012.

/s/ Faith S. Hochberg
Hon. Faith S. Hochberg, U.S.D.J.

¹ In his brief, Plaintiff may explain why he believes a hearing is necessary. However, he must first provide the Court with an argument in writing explaining why the Defendant's motion should not be granted. The Court will therefore sua sponte grant Plaintiff an extension to file his brief opposing Defendant's motion. If Plaintiff fails to file an opposition brief, the Court will construe the letter dated August 17, 2012, as his opposition.
